Principal's Welcome

As-salamu alaykum (peace be with you)

Dear Parents,

We have an exciting week ahead with our annual World Book Day taking place on Thursday 5th March. This year the children will not be dressing up as a character from a book, instead, the children are encouraged to take part in a competition to design a Book in a Box. A letter went out yesterday detailing how to enter this competition – there will be a prize for the most creative box in each year group.

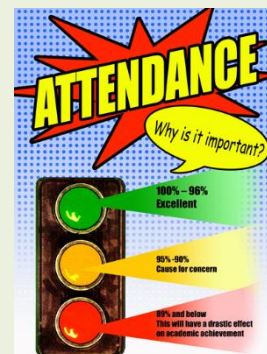

We will also be promoting an Extreme Reading Competition, where you can send photos of your child reading in unusual places. The most unusual place will get a special prize! Send your entries to our school email address – details on the World Book Day letter.

This Week's News

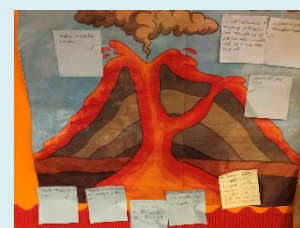

This week, the School Councillors have been super busy! They were set the task of conducting a survey in the British Value of Democracy. The children voted for the social problem they think is most prevalent in their community. We really wanted to make sure that we heard every voice in each class - even our adults voted! After the surveys, the School Councillors came back together and reported their findings, before doing a little Maths with totalling up the scores and finding out which problems were voted for to go through to the next round. Watch this space to see what our amazing School Councillors do next week now that we have the results!

Year 5 have been learning about the Stone Age and have been comparing different types of stones and their uses.

Year 1 have been learning some fantastic French phrases! How many countries do you think speak

How important is it for us to know the weather forecast?

A supercomputer is to be developed to support the Met Office in a huge project to improve weather forecasting. The new technology is to be funded by a £1.2 billion investment from the government and will be managed by the Met Office. It is expected the computer will be the most powerful forecasting system in the world and will be able to offer more precise weather and flood updates.

Things to talk about at home...

-  Do you listen to or read about the weather forecast?
-  Does knowing the weather forecast change any of your daily activities?
-  Has there ever been any extreme weather near where you live?
